KYLE HUBBARD

INTRO

Kyle's a versatile young developer looking to join an ambitious team, aggressively deliver results, and strengthen his engineering know-how. He recently returned from working internationally and has ambitious plans for a future within the Portland tech community.

TRAITS

* Conceptualizes new tech stacks quickly and with little guidance
* Enjoys dialogue and facilitating team brainstorming sessions
* An achiever that faces down tight deadlines and prioritizes tasks
* Is humorous, slow to speak, quick to act, and plays well with others
* A multi-hyphenate, often studying physics, sociology and philosophy

971.334.4382
LinkedIn
Portfolio
GitHub
Email

TECHNICAL

Works comfortably with Python, Django, Javascript, D3, React, Node and more. Has a general understanding of the interplay between internal development, production/operations, containerization/orchestration, algorithms and data structures, and other integral components of the development lifecycle.

Graduated bootcamp
Over 600 hours of training in Python, Javascript, Django, HTML & CSS from former Yelp engineer. Built multiple demo apps, deployed to Heroku, learned scrum, testing, algorithms, version control, and integrating API's.

Self study
Spent over 100 hours learning the basics of two JavaScript libraries, D3 and React, both through courses and pet projects. Read recently published books on the development lifecycle, data visualization and algorithms.

Community engagement
Got first place in a Startup Weekend; connected directly with founders and senior engineers from Jive, New Relic, IBM, Simple and Puppet, as well as early-stage startups such as Koan and Reflect; attended a DevOps conference and a high variety of meetups.

Next steps
Is prioritizing improvement in full stack development and eventually algorithms & data structures. Will continue education concurrently with employment, coordinate new meetups and volunteer at conferences. Is eager to be bold and embracing of ever larger challenges.

NON-TECHNICAL

Cobri
Cofounder
Founded Vietnam's first hacker and makerspace in the heart of its capital, Hanoi, bringing access to hardware, software expertise, business savvy and networking events to the community.

ENVOI
Founder
Founded ENVOI, a pillar of support for sustainability-minded entrepreneurs and small businesses in Vietnam by providing investment, mentorship, and workshops for knowledge and resource sharing.

United Nations Vietnam	BetterLife - USA	ME Partnership Initiative
Partnerships Assistant	Executive Director	Senior Program Assistant

Center for Public Service	OCD Mgmt. Consulting
Project Coordinator	Junior Consultant

Portland State University
B.S. in Social Science

REFERENCES

"I'd wholeheartedly recommend Kyle Hubbard to any organization that is looking for a talented, deeply intuitive and hardworking member of their team. Kyle pursues not only the financial well-being of organizations he is involved with, but also the personal development of everyone on teams he joins. His wit, smile, and passion for improving the world are infectious and will be lasting assets to any business!" ~ Jacob Gadikian

"Kyle is a systems thinker and innovative trailblazer. He is thoughtful in his pursuits and excellent at making connections on the ground. Kyle is a leader as well as a great team player and particularly adept at adapting strategies to changing contexts and developing meaningful partnerships." ~ Julia Babcock

"Definitely age is not a parameter with Kyle as he acquires skills extremely fast. Optimistic, enthusiastic and contagious, he carries a lot of energy to keep the team up and running. His social skills got us more contacts and connections we could imagine and, even though it was not precisely his role, he also worked with both software and hardware. He represented and managed the team and foundation of Cobri in an exceptional way and he is 100% reliable and committed. " ~ Jonathan Pilossof